

1ST ANNUAL MEETING OF CORE TEAMS

Webinars

Two webinars have been organized to present and discuss the vision with various stakeholders, including private sector, political parties, civil society, among others. The vision has also been distributed to a number of experts and leaders to provide their initial input on the process. Communication material on the vision is being produced in order to be ready when this vision becomes mature enough for public dissemination. Preparations are being made for this public release, including the development of an online platform for general public engagement, and building national support for the Green Recovery approach.

IndyACT is also working with 6 experts to dive into the details of the vision, and produce 6 sectoral papers on energy, transport, agriculture, tourism, finance, and circular economy. The first scrum should happen soon. The plan is to have a general scrum meeting, then a series of sectoral meetings to produce the papers.

LEBANON

Lebanon is currently suffering from its worst economic crisis in its history. More than 80% of the population went from being upper middle class to below the poverty line. The team in Lebanon is working to promote the Green Recovery approach as the most secure way for Lebanon to surpass its economic crisis. A draft green recovery vision document has been produced, in collaboration with the Lebanon Climate Act (LCA). LCA is a platform for Lebanese non-state actors working or are interested in working on climate change. The LCA is an initiative by Green Mind Association in partnership with UNDP. This vision, which is called "100% Lebanon", is currently being discussed privately with various key stakeholders and decision makers, in order to develop the concept further, and test how the reaction to it will be.
